

Bruce S. Goodman, PARTNER

Bruce Goodman is a partner in the Firm's New York litigation group. Bruce focuses his practice on commercial litigation, and related matters. Bruce has helped spearhead the firm's representation of Israeli corporate clients. In Tel Aviv, in February, 2005, Bruce and Stuart Krause addressed the Association of Corporate Counsel in Israel on the topic of "International Arbitration and Mediation."

Prior to joining ZEK, Bruce was associated with McCarter & English, and served a judicial clerkship with the Honorable Kevin M. O'Halloran, Presiding Judge of the Chancery Division (ret.), and a judicial internship with the Honorable Maryann Trump Barry, now a Judge on the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit.

Bruce is an active participant in several prominent charitable organizations, and has spent time abroad volunteering his time and efforts for a human rights organization. Bruce is happily married, and outside of the office can be found reading history, running, and hiking.

